

MARKETING ASSIGNMENT

Influencer Marketing

Analysing real campaigns and planning a brand outreach strategy.

TASK 1

Two case study analyses

TASK 2

Brand, selection & outreach

Mamaearth

Indian toxin-free beauty brand · founded 2016

Case Study 1

10,000+

influencers collaborated with

Strategy

Seeded free products to thousands of micro and "mom" influencers for honest reviews, building trust around its toxin-free, natural #GoodnessInside message.

Influencers

Parenting, skincare and lifestyle micro-influencers across Instagram and YouTube, later adding celebrity ambassador Shilpa Shetty.

Outcomes

Revenue grew from ~₹460 cr (FY21) to ~₹1,492 cr (FY23). Became a unicorn in 2022 and listed publicly (Honasa Consumer) in 2023.

boAt

Indian audio & wearables brand · founded 2016

Case Study 2

earwear brand in India

Strategy

Built a community of "boAtheads" — turning customers and creators into a lifestyle tribe through cricket, music and pop-culture partnerships.

Influencers

Cricketers like Hardik Pandya & KL Rahul and musicians like Neha Kakkar and Diljit Dosanjh as brand "ambassadors", plus many youth creators.

Outcomes

Became India's No.1 earwear brand and a top-5 wearable brand worldwide, crossing ~₹3,000 cr in revenue within a few years.

What Both Campaigns Got Right

- Authenticity over celebrity
Many engaged voices beat one big shoutout.

- Long-term relationships
Ongoing partnerships, not one-off paid posts.

- Trackable results
Unique codes and clear performance tiers.

- Community building
Contests and athlete networks turned fans into promoters.

HYPOTHETICAL BRAND

Sol

A plant-based, ready-to-drink protein coffee for busy students and young professionals.

WHY INFLUENCER MARKETING

The product is best shown in real daily routines — gym, study desk, commute.

My Brand

Product

Cold protein coffee in recyclable cans — three flavours, no added sugar.

Positioning

Healthy energy that fits a fast morning — affordable and sustainably packaged.

Target audience

18–30, fitness-curious and productivity-focused, active on Instagram and TikTok.

Influencer Selection Criteria

Niche fit

Fitness, student life, productivity or wellness creators.

Engagement rate

Genuine interaction matters more than raw follower count.

Values alignment

Health, sustainability and authenticity.

Audience match

Demographics and location overlap our target.

Content quality

Clean, consistent, on-brand visuals.

Mix of tiers

Mostly micro-influencers, a few macro for reach.

Outreach Template

A first message to a potential Sol creator partner.

INTRO

"Hi [Name], I'm [Your Name] from Sol. I love how you share your training and study routine with your community on [platform]."

PROPOSAL

"We'd love to partner on a 3-post collaboration featuring Sol protein coffee, with creative freedom and a unique discount code for your audience."

BENEFITS FOR YOU

Free product, a paid fee or commission per sale via your code, early access to new flavours, and the chance to co-create a limited edition.

CLOSE

"If this sounds good, I'll send full details. Looking forward to working together!"

KEY TAKEAWAYS

What I Learned

- Influencer marketing builds trust through authentic voices.
- The best campaigns are long-term partnerships, not one-off ads.
- Clear selection criteria and trackable codes drive real ROI.
- A genuine, benefit-led outreach message starts the relationship.
